Program Description

The Bachelor of Science Degree in Kinesiology at CSUB covers a broad knowledge base that represents several disciplines that include physical activity leadership, clinical exercise science, personal training and allied health professions. Students majoring in Kinesiology have three concentrations to choose from: Applied Exercise Science, Physical Activity Leadership and Allied Health.

The Concentration in Applied Exercise Science prepares students for careers in the fitness/wellness industry (e.g., corporate fitness) and certain clinical rehabilitation settings (e.g., cardiac rehabilitation). This concentration also provides students with the opportunity to prepare for advanced studies in related disciplines (e.g., master's degree in exercise physiology). This concentration follows current guidelines for academic programs in and prepares students for nationally recognized professional certifications offered by the American College of Sports Medicine (ACSM), and the National Strength and Conditioning Association (NSCA).

The Concentration in Physical Activity Leadership prepares students for careers or programs aimed at increasing physical activity. This concentration provides students with the skills and knowledge to become physical education teachers, after-school program leaders, personal trainers, parks and recreation fitness leaders and many more.

The Concentration in Allied Health prepares students that are interested in graduate/professional preparation programs such as Physical Therapy, Occupational Therapy and Physician Assistants. The curriculum includes the majority of courses required as prerequisites for entry into those programs.

Also, the department offers a variety of activity courses (1500-level) for recreational/fitness purposes. These activity courses are offered on a credit/no-credit basis and 4 units are included in the Kinesiology major requirements. Kinesiology majors must complete 4 different activity courses for the major. Only one online activity course will count toward the major.

Program Requirements

The Bachelor of Science Degree with a major in Kinesiology requires a minimum of 120 units which includes courses for the major and courses for the other university-wide general education graduation requirements.

Discipline Requirements for the Major

Students interested in majoring in Kinesiology should obtain general information about the program early in their lower division career. After declaring as a major in Kinesiology, the student should meet with an appointed advisor within the department to plan a course of study in a specific concentration. This is essential given that certain courses are offered only once a year and that many courses have prerequisites that require completion of sequenced non-major and major courses in order to fulfill these requirements. The cognate courses are some of these prerequisites and are best taken with the lower division general education courses prior to reaching Upper Division status. Majors must earn a grade of "C-" or better in all KINE courses as well as cognate and elective courses required for the major.

Kinesiology Courses

¹ A modification to the GE program has been approved that allows major requirements to satisfy LD Area B.

² SELF requirement is satisfied as part of the major (KINE 1018 Lifetime Fitness).

³ Capstone is satisfied as part of KINE 4868 Internship and Capstone.

- ⁴ KINE 2000 Introduction to Kinesiology is a prerequisite to all other core KINE courses 3000-level and above (it can be taken concurrently). Therefore, it should be taken as soon as possible within the required coursework.
- ⁵ Consultation with advisor highly recommended for alignment with professional preparation programs such as physical therapy, occupational therapy or physician's assistant.
- ⁶ Only 1 intercollegiate activity course will count toward the major
- ⁷ Only 1 online activity course will count toward the major
